

Yes, the Amulet remote is a fully functional replacement for your standard Media Center remote control so you won't need your original remote any more.